Water Instead of Oils.

The foreman in charge of the Edison dynamos running in St. Louis has made the discovery that water may be used to advantage in keeping down the temperature of journal boxes, and to the exclu-sion entirely of friction easing oils. For over two months now they have been using nothing but water on the journal of the two dynamos, and with the very best of results. In comparison with the oil using period the pillow blocks exhibit a marked difference when touched by the hand. Formerly they were too hot for anything like continued pressure of the hand, while now they are comparatively cool at all times. The journals also show a greater advantage, that brightness of surface denoting friction having given way to a dulier and more nearly natural color of tactal.—Boston Transcript.
